Subject: Re: COVID-19 Test Kits

Dear Honorable Ambassador,

With the rapid spread of the Coronavirus, many health institutions around the world, both public and private, are quickly mobilizing their medical supplies to treat the sick while preventing further spread. The WHO has made it clear: The most effective way to mitigate the number of new cases is to swiftly test as many people as possible. However, this presents new problems as proven test kits and the supporting components required to process them are most often in short supply due to their sudden high demand.

We at (10)(1c) understand the urgency this situation represents are pleased to bring our technology and experience to bear. As one of four official providers of COVID-19 test kits in South Korea, where new test cases are on steady decline, we are well qualified to help other countries win their fight against the virus.

The (10)(1c) COVID-19 test kit is certified by the Korean government and has CE certification. Our lab is equipped to supply up to 300,000 kits per week and quantities can increase substantially with advance notice.

Should you wish to place an order or facilitate a call with us to discuss further, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
