Thanks, agree, nearly there!

Please find some further comments attached. I suggest a next step after today's meeting is to pilot it, amongst some colleagues but also among some lay people.

I'm sorry to say I can't make the 17:00 meeting: there is an urgent call with the Ministry – the urgency seems to increase along with the declining case count.

And, I'm on leave after today, back Monday 6th. If there is anything urgent to discuss, I don't mind being called but I can't attend meetings during this time.

Best wishes, (10)(2e)

Dear all,

Good to see this new version! It is getting better each time *
 The more you think about it, the more clear it gets how difficult it is actually to formulate the questions really in a way that we end up with information that is useful for policy making (i.e. with a concrete action perspective).

Attached some additional comments from my side. Good this discuss this further this afternoon!

Best,

Subject: latest version of the questionnaire

Dear all,

Here's the most recent version of the questionnaire. (10)(2e) and it changed it based on your comments. There are still some important things to discuss tomorrow.
