Thank you very much [redacted]

Can I ask our French colleagues whether they may have the chance to share the study they mentioned, on the role of children in transmission (I believe it was mentioned that children and adolescents, perhaps with exception of primary-school children, enhance the risk of transmission in the family?). That would be very timely for the discussions here.

Thanks and all the best!

Subject: RE: European Science Advisers Call

Colleagues,

I understand at the call on Friday the UK promised to send through several pieces of information. In partial completion of that undertaking please find at this link the UK's most recent technical note on the new variant (published online on Friday 8th) and also a data table which underpins the report.

Relevant papers on schools-household infections to follow tomorrow.

Kind regards,
