Dear mr [5.1.2e]

I am sorry I did not respond to you earlier. This email address is my personal email address. For all offers for medical protection equipment please send your email to [5.1.2e]@nfu.nl. Because your email is already from three weeks ago I didn't forward your email.

Kind regards

I represent an organization called Naguma Property SRL. We currently have an inventory of [5.1.1c] of KN95 respirators that can be shipped to The Netherlands immediately, the estimated lead time for delivery is Thursday, April 2nd, 2020.

I have attached the product specifications and certifications to this email, alongside additional information regarding our company, of the supplies that we can provide.

I am sure that you are receiving many emails and requests, considering these are critical times, we are only sending you this email because we can deliver what we are offering.

We are proposing to offer these supplies at the following price points:

KN95 Respirator - $[5.1.1c] USD/unit

To move forward, we request a binding PO that would be payable 2 days after you receive the products at your destination.

Additionally, we have secured a supply chain of [5.1.1c] units/week moving forward if you need further supply.

Please advise if you are interested in further discussion.

Stay safe and healthy.

Best Regards,
