On behalf of the board of the Society for Epidemiology we invite you to the first VvE Webinar!

The value of using real world data in epidemiology is increasingly recognized, especially now, during the COVID-19 pandemic. Also, this pandemic has increased the recognition that citizen engagement in health research or citizen science may lead to improved community health. During this VvE webinar, two speakers will share their experience with digital data collection and the role of citizen science within pandemics.

Program:

9:55 – 10:00	Login
10:00 – 10:20	5.1.2e (Mijn Data Onze Gezondheid) Real World Data, Citizen Engagement and better Health Outcomes: steps forward
